

SHOWA: A global hand protection manufacturer dedicated to sustainability

To us, sustainability isn't just a commitment, it's part of our legacy. We launched the first biodegradable single-use glove in 2012 as the first step in our sustainability journey: a way to reduce the impact that gloves have on the environment. This strategy remains our primary focus as we expand EBT into every color and millimeter thickness within our product offering, including reusable gloves. This way we can meet the demands of today, without compromising for tomorrow.

Now you can choose from 7 biodegradable EBT gloves, each covering a range of applications:
